Precursor Systems is pleased to announce that company founder Alex Narvey will be attending the second annual ACES Conference May 4-5 in Austin, Texas.

The ACES Conference was conceived by two members of the Apple Consultants Network (Justin Esgar and Luis Giraldo) as a conference "for consultants, by consultants." This year is the second annual and has attracted the attention of Apple's Consultants Network whose program manager will provide a program update to the assembled masses on May 5th.

Topics will include hiring practices, preparedness, legalities, client retention, customer service, relationships, and more.

The podcasters from Command-Control-Power (who interviewed Alex last year – see Precursor PS-PR-150424) will be on hand to host a panel discussion.

"The ACES conference is a great opportunity to meet other Apple oriented consultants from other jurisdictions," said Precursor founder Alex Narvey, "Being a good I.T. support service means more than just being a good technician. The ACES conference helps me hone my craft at being a good business."

Precursor Systems was founded in March 1994 by Alex Narvey to provide support for computer-based professionals in the Publishing, Printing, Prepress, Digital Imaging, Audio and Video industries.
