Apple Releases System 7.5 Update 2.0!

On Monday, March 11, Apple Computer released system 7.5 Update 2.0—a 14 disk set of updaters for all versions of the company's flagship Operating System. The new Update 2.0 does several things:

- 1) It consolidates a myriad of evolving system components and extensions
- 2) It fixes a variety of bugs
- 3) It improves performance on nearly all Macs

The changes are quite literally too numerous to list on one page. Apple (and Precursor Systems) recommends that all System 7.5, 7.5.1, and 7.5.2 users immediately upgrade to the new System.

Getting System 7.5 Update 2.0

System 7.5 Update 2.0 is available to members of the Precursor BBS in our licensed Apple Software conference [from the Precursor BBS Desktop go Files:Apple Stuff:Updates & Utils]. It is also available from an assortment of Apple web and FTP sites. A list of locations is online at this Apple URL: <http://golf.info.apple.com/update/update.html>

You can also order the update on floppy disks or CD-ROM from Claris Direct (Canada) at (800) 361-6075. System Update 2.0 costs $20 (not including Shipping and Handling).

Precursor Special Update Offer!

Precursor Systems existing Support Plan customers will receive a special upgrade visit at no extra charge (The upgrade visit does not count as a Maintenance or Emergency and does not affect your future service). All Precursor Support Plan customers will be contacted this week to schedule an upgrade visit.

To help those who are not on a Precursor Support Plan upgrade Macintosh computers to System 7.5.3, Precursor Systems has put together a very special Upgrade Offer.

Our special Upgrade Offer includes:

- 1) Testing RAM, ROM, VRAM, PRAM, SCSI, hard drive, video display, directory and desktop files.
- 2) Custom install System 7.5 Update 2.0
- 3) 6 month subscription to the Precursor BBS

Have System 7.5.3 professionally installed on your system by a Macintosh expert and receive 6 free months subscription to the Precursor BBS all for only $99.95 (plus applicable taxes).

The Precursor Upgrade Offer is only good until March 31 so call (204) 992-3100 and book your System 7.5.3 upgrade today.
