Visioneer sues UMAX

Visioneer has filed suit against UMAX Corp., accusing its rival in the scanner market of false advertising and unfair business practices in marketing its Astra 1200 scanner series. UMAX claims its Astra 1220P, 1220S and 1220U as capable of 36-bit color. A laboratory hired by Visioneer found that the analog-to-digital converters in the three scanners are limited to 30 bits of color.

SAM 4.0 is Retired!

Here's a reminder from Symantec: With the recent introduction of Norton AntiVirus for Macintosh version 5.0, support for older virus definitions will be discontinued on September 1, 1998. Beginning September 1, Symantec will no longer support virus definitions for Symantec AntiVirus for Macintosh (SAM) version 4.0.8 and 4.5.0. Virus definitions for SAM version 4.5.1 will continue to be supported. Users of SAM 4.0.8, 4.5.0, and 4.5.1 can upgrade to Norton AntiVirus for Macintosh version 5.0 for $29 via Customer Service, 1-800-441-7234. Users of SAM 4.5.0 can also download a free patch to SAM version 4.5.1 at:

Virex Falls on Hard Times

SAM's biggest competitor Virex has apparently fallen on hard times. Virex users are complaining about how Network Associates is supporting the product. Previous owners, Dr. Solomon's and before that DataWatcher, released virus updates at the end of every month. Now it appears the September update will be a couple of weeks late, but a tech support rep said there would be no update at all in September. There is a new beta version 5.9, along with a note that updates for v.5.9 won't work with Dr. Solomon's last release, v.5.8.1, or any previous version.

Claris Mailer Dead

According to an Apple Marketing representative: "Mailer is dead...unfortunately. I thought we were at least still selling it, but no, its no longer available. Mailer and Organizer were removed from the August price list. Organizer was sold off to Palm Computing and they will be responsible for future development. Mailer was removed since it will no longer be bundled as part of the OS. There were also some incompatibilities with Mac OS 8.5."

Meanwhile, some beta testers of Mac OS 8.5 claim that Mailer works fine with it.
